

Message from the Mayor

It is my pleasure to extend greetings and a warm welcome to everyone attending the opening night of the CaribbeanTales International Film Festival (CTFF) hosted by the CaribbeanTales Media Group.

For 15 years, CTFF has celebrated established and emerging filmmakers of Caribbean and African heritage and has also amplified the voices of communities that have been historically overlooked in mainstream media and entertainment.

Black Torontonians play a vital role in the success of our city's arts and culture sector. As a city, we acknowledge and value Black communities across this city and encourage residents to participate in events like these which are a great opportunity to experience the rich cultures and traditions of Toronto's Black community.

Yours truly,
